

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

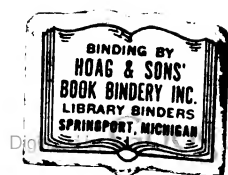

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. Notes and Announcements

Lovers of Charles Lamb and readers of E. V. Lucas will delight in the happy phrase coined by an American friend of Mr. H. C. Shelley's who told him that her dearest wish while on a visit to England was to "go Lambing through London with Mr. Lucas."

Henry Holt & Company are to publish early in the year a book by Stanley Washburn entitled "Nogi: a Man against the Background of the War." Mr. Washburn is author of "The Cable Game," a narrative of a reporter's part in the Russo-Japanese war, and it is said that during the war he was one of the few men who came into intimate touch with General Nogi.

The Cleveland Public Library is sending out a little book of "Appreciations of Horace Howard Furness." A frontispiece portrait of Dr. Furness and two essays, "Our Great Shakespeare Critic," by Talcott Williams, reprinted from the Century, and "Horace Howard Furness," by Agnes Repplier, reprinted from the Atlantic, make up the booklet.

The Penn Publishing Company announces to the trade that beginning with January 1st the prices of all their juvenile books were made net on the following basis: all books formerly published at $1.25, regular, will be $1.00 net; all books formerly published at $1.00, regular, will be 80 cents net; all books formerly published at 60 cents, regular, will be 50 cents net; all books formerly published at $1.20 net, will be $1.25 net; there will be a new series for children to be published at 25 cents net.

The award of the Nobel prize in literature to Gerhart Hauptmann adds the thirteenth name to the notable list of men and women who have been so honored. The first award in 1901 went to Sully Prudhomme. Those following him are: Theodor Mommsen, Björnstjerne Björnson, Frédéric Mistral and José Echegaray (who shared the honor in 1904), Henryk Sienkiewicz; Giosuè Carducci, Rudyard Kipling, Rudolf Eucken, Selma Lagerlöf, Paul Heyse, Maurice Maeterlinck.

The translation into English within the past year of the plays of August Strindberg has awakened—or at least broadened—our interest in Swedish literature. A work by a Swedish novelist, Gustaf Jansen, introduced as the "Kipling of Sweden," has been published by Little, Brown & Company. This novel "Pride of War," is a story of the Turko-Italian war and is said to have gained the commendation of European societies for the promotion of international peace.

An advance list of some of the good novels that will be issued during 1913 may be obtained by noting the serial stories which began their careers in the leading magazines, either with this month's issues or with the late issues of 1912. All of these stories will be given book publication later in the year, and the reader who wishes to be abreast of the times, or even ahead of it, may begin now the reading of several excellent stories that will undoubtedly be the books most talked about some months away. There is, it is true, a prejudice against the serial in many minds. Readers prefer the story "all at once." But to the reader with the "serial habit" there is a particular pleasure to be gained from the leisurely reading of a novel month by month, with time to think it over in between. A story worth reading at all ought to be worth thinking about between chapters. The offerings of the magazines this year are unusually inviting. The Atlantic is publishing "Van Cleve and His Friends," by Mary S. Watts, an author whose "Nathan Burke," and "The Legacy," won her a name as a writer of distinction. Edith Wharton's "The Custom of the Country" began in the January number of Scribner's and a story of John Galsworthy is promised later in the year by the same magazine. Following "The Judgment House," by Gilbert Parker, in Harper's will come a novel by Arnold Bennett, and in the Century a new novel by Frances Hodgson Burnett, "T. Tembarom," has already begun its serial career.

Bibliography

"A Check List of American 18th Century Newspapers in the Library of Congress," compiled by John Van Ness Ingram of the periodical division has been issued by the Library of Congress.

"A Select List of References on the Valuation of Public Service Corporations," compiled by Mary M. Rosemond of the Legislative Reference Department of the Iowa State Library has been issued by the National Association of Railway Commissioners.

"An Annotated, Graded, Classified and Priced List of Books Suitable for Elementary School Libraries" is issued as Bulletin no. 515 by the Department of Education of the State of New York.

The Chicago Public Library publishes a "Finding List" of the books for young people in the library. "Here are books for young people of all ages, from the little ones who can use only picture books, to the boys and girls who are attending high school. For those who have left school there are volumes on many subjects which will lead to self-improvement or self-education."

"School Libraries in Minnesota," a list of books for elementary and rural schools, compiled by Martha Wilson, has been published by the Department of Public Instruction, St. Paul, Minn. A statement of the school library law of the state, recommended lists for first purchase, suggestions for librarians and teachers and directions for ordering books precede the classified and annotated book list.

A list of "Books for Boys and Girls in the Free Public Library of Newark, N. J." has been issued by that library. It is a revision of the list published in 1906 and, as its introduction says, "is the result of several years' careful consideration of the best reading for children; for recreation; for education in the restricted sense of reading supplementary to school work; and for education in the broad sense of reading for general culture."

A second edition of the "Annotated Catalogue of Newspaper Files in the Library of the University of Wisconsin" has been issued by the State Historical Library. The first edition, compiled by Emma H. Blair, was issued in 1898, and the present edition, the work of Ada Tyng Griswold, has been made necessary by the additions in the intervening fourteen years to the library's files.

Benziger Brothers have issued a "Catalogue of all Catholic Books in English," containing practically all Catholic books, with the exception of pamphlets, prayer books and school books, published in all the English speaking countries. The catalog contains an author index and a subject index made up of lists on: I. Doctrine, Instruction, etc.; II. Theology, Philosophy, etc.; III. History and Biography; IV. Sermons; V. Novels, Tales, Poetry, Drama; VI. Juveniles.

The American Historical Society has issued the fifth annual number of "Writings on American History," compiled by Grace Gardner Griffin. The present volume is made up of "a bibliography of books and articles on United States and Canadian History published during the year 1910, with some memoranda on other portions of America." A volume on "Writings on American History, 1902," was issued in 1906 by Princeton University. Since then a volume has been prepared annually.

Some Good Books of 1912

The writer confesses to a long standing desire to compile a list of Best Books. Everyone who has ever read one of those Best lists, whether measured by the hundred or by the yard, has had a similar experience. It is only the natural wish to remodel it—"nearer to the heart's desire." Yet when this list of the books of 1912 was partially completed courage failed. After all, who are we that we presume to set up a standard of what is best? So with a becoming reticence the compiler abandoned the superlative adjective in favor of the more modest title above. And this list is now offered for what it is worth merely as an opinion, very personal, as to the books of the year just past which stand out somewhat from their fellows.

A dozen good novels:

Andrews, M. R. S., The Marshal; Austin, M., Woman of Genius; Bullard, A. (Albert Edwards), Man's World; Comstock, S., The Soddy; Halifax, R., Whistling Woman; Jackson, C. T., Midlanders; Johnston, M., Cease Firing; Lucas, E. V., London Lavender; Ollivant, A., Royal Road; Pocock, R., Man in the Open; Pryce, R., Christopher; Sidgwick, E., Herself; Stephens, J., Mary, Mary.

Short Stories:

Connolly, J., Wide Courses; Mather, F. J., Collectors; Merrick, L., This Stage of

NOTES AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

Fools; Van Slyke, L. B., Eve's Other Children.

Good Biographies:

Antin, M., Promised Land; Egan, M., Everybody's St. Francis; Hegermann-Lindencrone, In the Courts of Memory; Meredith, G., Letters; Paine, A. B., Mark Twain; Sinclair, M., Three Brontës.

Books of Philosophy and Religion:

New realism; Palmer, G. H., Problem of Freedom; Perry, R. B., Present Philosophical Tendencies; Royce, J., Sources of Religious Insight, and William James and Other Essays.

Essays, and other non-fiction books worth reading:

Burroughs, J., Time and Change; Crothers, S. M., Humanly Speaking; Repplier, A., Americans and Others; Addams, J., New Conscience and an Ancient Evil; Bruère, M. B. and R. W., Increasing Home Efficiency; Coolidge, M. R., Why Women are So; Great Analysis; Bryce, J., South America.

A few good juveniles:

And the Very Best book for girls:

Brown, Alice, Secret of the Clan.

Necrology

Miss Sophie Miriam Swett, author of many books for children died on Nov. 12, 1912, at Arlington Heights, Mass.

Will Carleton, author of "Farm Ballads," "Farm Festivals," and other books of verse, died in Brooklyn on December 18. He was born in Hudson, Michigan in 1845, and was known thruout the country as a poet and as a lecturer and reader from his own works.

James Otis Kaler died Dec. 11 in Portland, Maine. His journalistic career began when he was seventeen, and he wrote during his life time about 145 books for boys under his pen name, James Otis. His first story, "Toby Tyler," was published by Harper in 1877 and has remained, perhaps, his best known and most popular story.

Robert Collyer, an American clergyman with a somewhat picturesque life story died in New York on November 30, 1912.

After he came to America in 1850 at the age of 27 he followed for a time his trade of blacksmithing. As an itinerant Methodist missionary and later as a Unitarian missionary he began his career in the ministry. In 1860 he founded Unity Church, Chicago, and in 1879 was called to the Church of the Messiah in New York City, where he remained up to the time of his death. "Nature and Life," "The Life that now is," "Talks to Young Men," are some of his published works.

Homer Lea, whose book "The Day of the Saxon" was published but recently, died November, 1912, at his home in Los Angeles. Altho but 36 years of age at his death he had already won to a distinctive position in a movement just now of world importance. Since 1901 he had been associated with the new movement in China; he held a lieutenant-generalship in the reform army and acted as adviser to the leaders of the rebellion. "The Valor Of Ignorance," a military work considering the Chinese situation, was published in 1909, and he was at work on a history of the political development of China at the time of his death.

The Year's Best Sellers

The place of honor in the list of best sellers for 1912 goes to "The Harvester" by Gene Stratton-Porter. In the monthly summaries of most popular books it was mentioned eleven times.

Books mentioned five times:

The Winning of Barbara Worth; A Hoosier Chronicle; Street Called Straight; The Melting of Molly.

Books mentioned four times:

The Iron Woman; Queed.

Books mentioned three times:

The Following of the Star; The Money Moon; The Just and the Unjust.

Books mentioned twice:

He Comes up Smiling; Tante; Fran; The Man in Lonely Land; To M. L. G.; Their Yesterdays; The Arm-Chair at the Inn.

Books mentioned once:

Peter Ruff and the Double Four; John Rawn; Through the Postern Gate; The Lighted Way; The Red Lane; Where There's a Will; The Hollow of her Hand; The Net; A Romance of Billy-Goat Hill; Between Two Thieves.

Names Used as Headings.

Entries are made preferably under the author's real name, but under the last initial or pseudonym, when the real name is not known or rarely used; under names of editors of compilations; under names of countries, states or cities which are treated as authors of their publications and of law reports; under names of societies or conventions, as authors of their transactions, journals, reports, and collections; under names of churches as authors of liturgies, hymn-books, catechisms, etc. (local churches, under name of place); under Bible when the book is a text or a paraphrase of any part of the Bible; under the first word, not an article, of anonymous works. Translations, abridgments, and indexes, are put under the original work.

Parts of Names Used as Headings.

English compound names are put under the second part; foreign compound names under the first part. English surnames beginning with a prefix are put under the prefix; in French names, under the prefix excepting the preposition de and d'; in all other languages and in French names beginning with de or d', under the name following the prefix. British noblemen are put under their titles; bishops under their family names; members of royal families, canonized persons, and members of religious orders under their first name.

Prices.

Educational and technical books, sold at a limited discount and commonly known as net books have an asterisk (*) before the price. Books subject to the rules of the American Publishers' Association are marked by a double asterisk () when the bookseller is required to maintain the list price; by a dagger (†), when the maximum discount is fixed at 20 and 10 per cent, as is allowable in the case of fiction.

When a price is changed, the book is recatalogued in the current number of the Index whatever may be the date of its publication.

Library of Congress Cards.

Numbers to be used in ordering the printed catalog cards of the Library of Congress are given at the end of the main (author) entry of each book. In many government publications, however, for which only subject entries are given, these numbers are attached to the subject entries.

When a book is entered before the Library of Congress card number can be procured, it is reentered in a succeeding issue of the Index with the order number attached. It will be necessary, for example, to look in the 1907 issues of the Index for the numbers of some books that were published in 1906 and catalogued in the 1906 Index.

In ordering cards by these numbers, the numbers should be arranged in columns in increasing order of the numbers. The number of copies wanted should be indicated after the card numbers with a slanting line between, e. g., 5-2850/4. The price of cards ordered by number is 2c. for the first copy and 1½c. for each additional copy. For further information apply to the Librarian of Congress, Washington, D. C.
